Rewriting the rules of mobility

Dear potential customer,

In Healthcare we enable improved patient outcomes through more patient face time by helping you reduce administrative burden, improving patient satisfaction and becoming more efficient.

Interestingly though, we do all this with something as simple as pen and paper.

Ubisys was formed in 2004 and has rapidly become a leading service provider and integrator of Anoto based digital pen and paper solutions. Based near Leeds, we have clients all over the UK in every business sector and almost every vertical.

Working in partnership with mobile operators, NHS software vendors and resellers we extend the use and purpose of Digital Pen and Paper to its limits by developing bespoke applications and databases. Our solutions are made with passion to deliver immediate benefits and high levels of ROI in relatively short timescales.

If you want to know more, don't hesitate. Call today.

THE BUSINESS CHALLENGE

The introduction of TPP SystmOne across community services, which provides functionality to support electronic clinical record keeping, also requires changes to existing ways of working born out of historic limitations and capabilities.

In order to support the provision of care closer to a patient's home, the introduction of mobile working that was suitably robust and secure was of paramount importance, especially in the current financial and economic climate.

The trust wanted to introduce digital pen and paper technologies to support this business need and to forge new ways of working that more appropriately supported provision of services in the community. They needed a solution that would;

- Eliminate the need to return to the office after visits.
- Send data easily, reliably and securely.
- Have limited or no training requirements.
- Update the patient records immediately.
- Be easy to use.

"THE UBISYS SOLUTION GAVE US TIME BACK – TIME PATIENTS NEED"

THE SOLUTION

In the spirit of partnership, Barnsley NHS Trust and Ubisys set about designing a Digital Pen solution that would meet the needs of the users, business and patients alike. Three service areas were chosen initially using three different forms; Initial Assessment, Therapy and Activities of daily living.

Nurses recognise the forms as the changes made were minimised in order to create a high level of adoption and satisfaction. Once completed using digital pen the nurse sends the captured information by ticking send on the form, which in turn sends it to a mobile device and on to Ubisys Formidable software located on a server in Barnsley NHS Trusts secure data centre. Here the handwriting is then converted to XML, a PDF produced of the writing and in the short term is collated and manually attached to TPPs SystmOne.

- PDF & XML data sent within 15 seconds.
- No effect to patient interaction.
- Staff moral increased.
- Little re training required.
- Travel back to office no longer required.
- Re-keying of data reduced by 95%.
- SystmOne auto integration next phase
